Installation

1. Insert the DocuShare DVD-ROM into the server DVD-ROM drive. The DocuShare setup should start automatically. If you have disabled Auto-Run, double-click setup.bat in the DVD root directory.

The installation program uses Java to install the product. It takes a few minutes to unpack and start Java. An onscreen status indicator is not available while JVM completes its installation.

A language selection screen displays.

2. If you want to install a language pack in addition to English, choose the language you want and click OK.

The DocuShare Welcome screen displays.

3. Click Next to start the DocuShare installation. Follow the onscreen instructions.

4. When the installer completes the DocuShare installation, click Finish to close the installer.

5. Reboot the system. DocuShare initial startup automatically updates the search indexes; allow five minutes before accessing the site via a browser.

Connect to your DocuShare server

At the completion of the DocuShare installation, try connecting to your new DocuShare server using a web browser. The default URL is:

`http://<localhost>:8080/docushare`

For users connecting to DocuShare from their systems, the URL is:

`http://<server hostname>:8080/docushare`

Note: 8080 is the default port for the Tomcat web servlet. If another application is using 8080, DocuShare will check and assign another port number to its URL.

If the installation was successful, you should be viewing the default home page of your new DocuShare server. The home page has links to many useful features and to several pre-installed collections. User and Administrator tutorials are available via the Help link.
