Customer Documentation Install and Uninstall Instructions

702P07731

Dear Customer,

Congratulations on the purchase of your Press. We are pleased to present you with customer documentation that is flexible in format and gets you answers quickly and efficiently.

This letter contains information on obtaining, installing, and uninstalling the documentation that supports the Press. The documentation can be installed on the Xerox Press Interface (CentOS), the Print Server, a different Windows PC, or even a Macintosh computer—whatever is most convenient for you.

Locate and Download the Customer Documentation for Your Press

1. Go to www.xerox.com and select Support followed by Support and Drivers.
2. In the Search by Product field, type “Baltoro”, and select Xerox Baltoro HF Inkjet Press.
3. Select the Documentation link.
4. Select the language, as necessary.
5. Under User Documentation, select the appropriate download link for your location(s).
 - To download the customer documentation file for a Windows PC, select For PCs.
 - To download the customer documentation file for the Press Interface, select For the Press Interface.
 - To download the customer documentation file for a MAC computer, select For MACs.
6. Follow the download instructions. If you are at the Press Interface, select Save File to save the bin file to the u01/home/Downloads folder. If you are at a PC, select Save to save the installation file (.exe) on the PC.

Install the Xerox® Baltoro™ HF Customer Documentation

At the Xerox® Press Interface

To make the documentation available to multiple users and install to a different location, log in as System Administrator, or root.

1. Follow the previous instructions to Locate and Download the Customer Documentation.
2. At the Xerox Press Interface workstation, minimize the Xerox Baltoro Press Interface window.
3. To obtain the documentation file, open the Home folder and Downloads folder. Drag the documentation file (.BIN) onto the desktop.
4. At the CentOS toolbar, select the Applications menu >Utilities>Terminal to open the Terminal Window.
5. Type the following commands:

cd Desktop
sh ./filename.bin

Where, filename.bin represents the exact text in the name of the downloaded file. The installation program begins.

6. Follow the prompts in the installation program. The documentation installs in a Baltoro HF Documentation folder on the Press Interface workstation. Open the folder and double click on Baltoro HF Documentation to view the customer documentation.

At a Microsoft® Windows® PC

1. Follow the previous instructions to Locate and Download the Customer Documentation.
2. Select Save to place the downloaded installation file (.exe) on the PC.
3. After the download completes, select View Downloads. From the View Downloads window, locate the .exe file and select Run.
4. Follow the prompts in the installation window. Allow Administrator access, if prompted. The documentation installs in C:\Program Files as well as to a Baltoro HF Documentation folder on the desktop. Select Done at the installation window and select Close from the View Downloads window.
5. Open the Baltoro HF Documentation shortcut folder on the desktop and double click on Baltoro HF Documentation to view the customer documentation.

Note: If the message “Allow Blocked Content” appears, select Allow Blocked Content.

At a Mac OS X®

1. Follow the previous instructions to Locate and Download the Customer Documentation.
2. From the Downloads folder or icon, locate the BaltoroDoc.app file.
3. Click on the BaltoroDoc.app file and select Open. The installation begins.
4. Follow the prompts in the installation program. Allow Administrator access, if prompted. The documentation installs in a Baltoro HF Documentation folder on the desktop.
